

Reference number CR1662

Contact name

Magali Cammarata

Is your submission confidential?

No

Submission type

Have Your Say

Comment

I oppose Draft Recommendation 51 not only on the basis of the detrimental impact it will have on Australian families and communities, but also because there's no valid evidence that eliminating trading hour restrictions will increase competition - If anything, it's likely to benefit only the larger, well financed retailers. In today's high technology environment, isn't there already unrestricted trading through website / internet sales? I can only see some parts of the tourism / hospitality industry benefiting. If the ultimate aim is to have unrestricted trading hours so that penalty rates can later be removed, I'm opposed. Families who work under those conditions deserve and most likely depend on those penalty rates, otherwise they would spend their time nurturing their families. Less time with the kids will cost the government and society far more than it! can presently envisage.

Magali Cammarata

Reference number CR1662

Contact name

Magali Cammarata

Is your submission confidential?

No

Submission type

Have Your Say

Comment

I oppose Draft Recommendation 51 not only on the basis of the detrimental impact it will have on Australian families and communities, but also because there's no valid evidence that eliminating trading hour restrictions will increase competition - If anything, it's likely to benefit only the larger, well financed retailers. In today's high technology environment, isn't there already unrestricted trading through website / internet sales? I can only see some parts of the tourism / hospitality industry benefiting. If the ultimate aim is to have unrestricted trading hours so that penalty rates can later be removed, I'm opposed. Families who work under those conditions deserve and most likely depend on those penalty rates, otherwise they would spend their time nurturing their families. Less time with the kids will cost the government and society far more than it! can presently envisage.

Magali Cammarata