I am against the toll on all roads .Already the toll is high enough on toll roads. I do about 30 thousand kilometres a year to earn a living this will greatly disadvantage me against someone who either drives to the office and back home or can use the public transport system to go to work and back home.

If this proposal is implemented many like me would be greatly disadvantaged. The roads have been built by our taxes and as such are owned by us so why should we pay to use our own roads? The car registration is very high to start with!

I think Australians are sick of being squeezed.We already are over governed ie the population is not high enough to support the three or four levels(if Senate is considered),of Government's.

We should be thinking of reducing a couple of levels for the better future of this nation as a whole because too much bungling and wastage at all levels are hurting Mother Australia ,this is where the money can come from for everything needed.
